Survey validates immediate concern around employee turnover

Do you know why your employees are leaving?

A recent survey of employers commissioned by Michigan Works! Southeast validates that employee turnover is a major concern. The survey, which was conducted by the Workforce Intelligence Network, found that while employers recognize that supports for struggling employees are effective retention tools, 72 percent of organizations without such tools are unable to provide them. We have a proven model to support your employees and reduce turnover. Contact us today to learn more!
